THE MAN OF SORROW.

THE STATE JOURNAL is in receint of a $n \in W$ rontribution to the literature concerning Alraham Lincoln. It is a little book entitled "Lincoln the Man of Sorrow," by Hon. Vurwne W. Chafin, the Prohibition party cancidate for president of the linted States.

Mr. Chafin has included in the volume what is baid to be the only correct report of Mr. Lincoln's temperance addran delivered in Springfiela in 以 $^{2}$, concerning which there has been murls controvers. This was first published in The State Journal and Mr. Lincoln prepared the copy for the paper. It was photorraphed from a beys of the paper for use in Mr. Chatin's work.

Commenting upon the text in the book one of the rritios deelares the publication is not only a valuable contribution to Ancrican literature but to American hooraphy and history an woll.

He speaks with lithie rectard for probablecritioism, but is not wanting in reverence for Lincoln and the purgone of tho volume in 10 polnt out the great moral of the Emancipator's life. Tho compurinon is with the life of Christ and in coosine hife euloys Mr. Chatin says:
"Triumphant -ueces came into their fitthly lives but once and that was on Palen Sunday. Fiver ays thereafter atal on Good Friday. Jesus was crucitied. Fivedays thereafter and ow iond Frinay, Lincoln was ascassinated. and the firallel is eomplete."
